Dr. Roland DeVries

Dr. Jesse Zink

Roland De Vries is the Director of Pastoral Studies at The Presbyterian College and previously served in congregational ministry in Montreal. His recent research and writing explores the guest nature of the Christ, and the significance of this for the church's identity and mission.

Jesse Zink is Principal of Montreal Diocesan Theological College and formerly served as a missionary of the Anglican church in South Africa. He is the author of Grace at the Garbage Dump: Making Sense of Mission in the 21st Century and A Faith for the Future

FALL 2018

Christian Mission

Churches across Canada recognize that mission is central to their response to the good news of Jesus Christ. But just what mission means and what it looks like is not always clear. This course looks at the historical and theological roots of mission, while also introducing students to a variety of approaches to congregational mission, including community analysis, new monasticism, new church development, Eucharistic missiology, and much else. Students will leave with a renewed understanding of the meaning and significance of mission and practical ideas for thinking about mission in their own ministry contexts.

THE MONTREAL SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

We aim to make theological education accessible to a wide range of students. This is a rich opportunity for those seeking deeper understanding of Christian faith and spiritual enrichment; and/or wanting to pursue graduate theological education without earning a degree; and/or thinking about ordained ministry, but wanting to discern a call by trying some courses first.

The Montreal School of Theology is accredited by the Association of Theological Schools.

This course is given 3 academic credits at the Masters (M.Div.) level. Credits apply to the programs of any of the partner Colleges of MST.
